

Information about the co-organizers of the Pan-Russian conference with international participation

Dendrobiotic Invertebrates and Fungi and their Role in Forest Ecosystems
(The Kataev Memorial Readings – XI)

Saint Petersburg State Forest Technical University, Saint Petersburg, November 24–27, 2020

The Russian Entomological Society is one of the oldest scientific biological societies in the country: in 2019, it was 160 years since its foundation. RESO unites entomologists of professionals and amateurs on the basis of the unity of objects of their interests. These objects are individuals, populations and species – the entire diversity of insects and other arthropod animals on our planet.

Official website: <https://www.zin.ru/societies/res/>

Committee for Urban Landscaping of St. Petersburg is a part of the Government of St. Petersburg and provides implementation of state policy and carries out state management in the field of improvement: gardening, forestry, road maintenance and other amenities, waste management in St. Petersburg, as well as coordinates the activities of other executive bodies of state power of St. Petersburg in this area.

Official website: <https://www.gov.spb.ru/gov/otrasl/blago/>

Forest Research Council of the Russian Academy of Sciences is a part of the structure of the Scientific Councils of the Russian Academy of Sciences and implements the following functions: assistance in obtaining new knowledge about forests; setting priorities for the development of forest science; development of concepts and programs for the development of priority areas of forest science; analysis of the results of scientific research and development in the areas of development of forest science; development of the scientific foundations of forest policy, sustainable forest management and advanced technologies aimed at innovative development of the forest sector; scientific debate.

Official website: <http://cepl.rssi.ru/science/ras-research-board-on-forests/>

Committee on Natural Resources of the Leningrad Region is a branch of the executive body of the Leningrad Region, exercising, within the limits of its competence, public administration and realization of the powers and functions of the Leningrad Region in the field of relations related to environmental protection; forest relations; subsoil use relations in subsoil areas, the disposal of which is within the competence of the Leningrad Region; water relations; organization and functioning of specially protected natural territories of regional significance; air protection; radiation safety; environmental impact assessment; safety of hydraulic structures; using atomic energy.

Official website: <https://nature.lenobl.ru/ru/o-komitete/>

St. Petersburg State Forest Technical University named after S.M. Kirov is a university located in St. Petersburg and founded in 1803 by a decree of Emperor Alexander I. The University is a state higher educational institution that implements educational programs of higher education; provides training, retraining and advanced training of highly qualified specialists for production, scientific and scientific-pedagogical activities in the field of forestry, forestry, woodworking, wood-chemical, pulp and paper, hydrolysis industry; carries out fundamental and applied research. The University is a leading scientific and methodological center of higher forestry educational institutions of the Russian Federation.

Official website: <http://spbftu.ru/>